HURRICANE KIT 2024

BE PREPARED FOR THIS HURRICANE SEASON

KEY POINTS TO REMEMBER

The Islands of The Bahamas: Prepared for 2024 Hurricane Season

Even during hurricane season (June 1 - November 30), The Bahamas continues to attract a record number of visitors. We attribute this to several factors, the two most being:

- The Bahamas spans 100,000 square miles of ocean and comprises 30 inhabited islands, ranging from northernmost Freeport to Inagua in the southern Bahamas. Even the largest hurricanes won't impact every island.
- Bahamians see hurricanes as a "fact of life" in the islands and prepare appropriately for the occasional threat.

Is it safe to plan a Bahamas vacation during hurricane season?

- Yes. With 100,000 square miles of ocean, a hurricane within The Bahamas' territorial waters rarely disrupts the experience of the vast majority of visitors, as all islands are not normally affected at the same time.
- Hotels have well-rehearsed, preparedness plans should a hurricane pose a threat.
- The Bahamas Disaster Risk Management Authority (DRM Authority) formerly the National Emergency Management Agency (NEMA) has Emergency Support Function (ESF) with Government, Quasi-Government, Non-Government Organizations (NGOs) and Private Agencies.

What should visitors know before planning a Bahamas vacation?

The majority of Bahamas vacations will not be affected by a hurricane, even during "active hurricane season." On the relatively rare occasion that a vacation is disrupted by a hurricane, Bahamian hotels and resorts make every effort to accommodate guests and extend all possible courtesies.

Many hotels participate in the Bahamas Hotel and Tourism Association (BHTA) hurricane cancellation policy.

Is The Islands of The Bahamas ready for the 2024 summer travel season?

The time to prepare for the 2024 hurricane season is now. In the event of a hurricane within The Islands of The Bahamas, the Ministry of Tourism, Investments & Aviation (BMOTIA) will coordinate communications with representatives throughout the islands to gather information and develop status reports. It is important to communicate accurate and timely information to the media and the public. Effective teamwork between the public and private sectors will facilitate better crisis management and communications.

BAHAMAS HURRICANE PREPARATION TIPS

Please take a moment to review the following:

- Crisis Management Plan: Draft or revise a crisis management plan specific to your property/interests.
- Create/Update Emergency Contact List: An Emergency Contact List should include current information for key personnel on and offshore, with alternate e-mail addresses where possible. It is helpful to include telephone numbers for local and national Bahamas Ministry of Tourism offices, Bahamas Hotel & Tourism Association, Disaster Risk Management Authority, etc.

- Designate a website and offshore spokesperson: In the event of transmission issues, designate an offshore person to collect relevant information and forward to the Bahamas Ministry of Tourism, Investments & Aviation.
- Hurricane Impact Damage Assessment Form: Download and print a Hurricane Impact Damage Assessment Form (Pg. 22) in advance in case there is a power outage or phone failure. Following a hurricane, the information you provide on this form is critical to the work of the Bahamas Ministry of Tourism, Investments & Aviation and the Bahamas Hotel & Tourism Association as they evaluate and disseminate the most accurate information.
- Satellite phone: If you have a satellite phone, please share the number with the Bahamas Ministry of Tourism, Investments & Aviation (Mr. Trevor Moss, General Manager), the Bahamas Hotel & Tourism Association (Ms. Suzanne Pattusch, Executive Vice President) and the appropriate Promotion Board.
- Prepare for recovery: Draft an outline of communications in advance of the storm and fill in pertinent, verified information for distribution after the storm. Prepare to distribute updates to guests and reservation holders, and to post updates on your website and social media channels.

Create a script for the hotel's front desk, reservation desk, etc. so that enquiries from the public can be responded to accurately and uniformly.

In the event of a hurricane:

- The Bahamas Ministry of Tourism, Investments & Aviation will conduct task force conference calls to keep key agencies apprised of preparations and developments.
- Please keep your local Bahamas Ministry of Tourism, Investments & Aviation representative and the Bahamas Hotel & Tourism Association current on the status of your property.
- Post-hurricane – Please complete and return the Hurricane Impact Damage Assessment Form as quickly as possible to the General Manager, BMOTIA.

Answering questions from media and visitors:

- It is very important to communicate only accurate, verified information in times of crisis.
- Media: Please refer all media enquiries to the designated spokesperson.
- Visitors: It is important to appoint one (1) spokesperson to handle visitor enquiries. If you do not know the answer to a question, explain that you will follow-up when you have the most accurate and up-to-date information.

Please be aware that comments on your hotel's social media channels (or personal social media accounts/platforms that you may also use to comment on The Bahamas) will influence the public's perception of conditions on the island. Dramatic overstatements are not helpful.

Each hotel needs to establish its own policy regarding employees publishing comments or observations that reference the business specifically (particularly if the "updates" have not been vetted for accuracy). Updates on current conditions of or around a property should not be published by sources not designated as a spokesperson. As always, speculation should be avoided.

Who to call:

Mrs. Latia Duncombe

Step 1 – Getting the Facts

In all cases, the Director General and the General Manager of the Bahamas Ministry of Tourism, Investments & Aviation will be the qualified spokespersons and will serve as liaisons with the government and private sector.

Step 2 - Notifying Key People

Once the information pertaining to the threat is gathered, the Bahamas Ministry of Tourism, Investments & Aviation will produce official press communiqués, that will be updated and released at intervals appropriate to the situation.

The press communiqués will be sent, to the following,

- Bahamas Tourist Offices and other government Ministries/Agencies
- Bahamas Hotel & Tourism Association
- Embassies and Consulate offices
- Promotion Boards
- Hotels
- Media (consumer and trade)
- Tour Operators and Travel Agents

Step 3 - Assigning One (1) Media Spokesperson

Designate one (1) spokesperson to discuss the situation and the effect that the hurricane has had on your hotel.

Step 4 - Responding to the Media and Being Accessible

Monitor the media coverage and collect articles/taped segments relevant to your hotel. Send the relevant segments to the General Manager, BMOTIA.

Establish one direct-dial phone number for key contacts. Always have the phone manned with appropriate persons with correct, up-to-date information.

A - Taking Control of the Story: Draft a response to the media, such as a press release, detailing how the situation is being handled. The releases may include key messages and tips for the consumers as well as talking points for the appropriate spokesperson.

B - Crafting the Statement: Develop an accurate, truthful statement to be delivered by the spokesperson. New releases should be drafted as conditions change. Releases should seek to provide timely updates and information on the situation and focus on the key messages and tips for consumers.

The format for these releases should specifically address major changes in the movement of the system and the procedures in place.

The five communiqué samples that should be included in the plan are as follows.

1. Tropical Storm Monitoring Communiqué
2. System Upgrade to Hurricane Communiqué
3. System Landfall Communiqué
4. "All Clear" Issued Communiqué
5. Hotel is Open For Business Communiqué

HURRICANE DORIAN AND THE ISLANDS OF THE BAHAMAS

NASSAU, Bahamas – The Bahamas Ministry of Tourism, Investment & Aviation continues to track the progress of Hurricane [HURRICANE NAME], which has been upgraded to a Category 5 hurricane. Hurricane [HURRICANE NAME] is expected to remain extremely dangerous through Monday, September 2 as it slowly moves west, tracking over parts of the northwestern Bahamas on [DATE].

“This is a dynamic weather system that we continue to monitor closely to ensure the safety of our residents and visitors,” said the Director General of The Bahamas Ministry of Tourism, “The Bahamas is an archipelago with more than 700 islands and cays, spread over 100,000 square miles, which means that the effects of Hurricane [HURRICANE NAME] will vary greatly. While we are relieved that most of the nation will be unaffected, we are deeply concerned about our neighbours in The Abacos and Grand Bahama Island. At this time, we are offering every level of support to these islands which will be impacted today.”

Resorts and attractions in the Bahamian capital of Nassau, as well as neighbouring Paradise Island, remain open. The Lynden Pindling International Airport (LPIA) remains open as of noon today and will issue another update at [TIME] EDT. Travellers should check with their airline directly as schedules may vary.

A hurricane warning remains in effect for the Northwest Bahamas: Abaco, Grand Bahama, Bimini, Berry Islands, North Eleuthera and New Providence, which includes Nassau and Paradise Island. A hurricane warning means that hurricane conditions could affect the aforementioned islands within 36 hours

A hurricane watch remains in effect for Andros. A hurricane watch means that hurricane conditions could affect the aforementioned island within 48 hours.

Islands in the southeastern and Central Bahamas remain unaffected, including The Exumas, Cat Island, San Salvador, Long Island, Acklins and Crooked Island, Mayaguana and Inagua.

HURRICANE [HURRICANE NAME] AND THE ISLANDS OF THE BAHAMAS (CONT'D)

14 ISLANDS OF THE BAHAMAS ARE READY TO WELCOME VISITORS WITH OPEN ARMS

NASSAU, Bahamas – The Islands Of The Bahamas are an archipelago with more than 700 islands and thousands of cays spread out over 100,000 square miles of ocean, starting just 50 miles southeast of the coast of Florida. While the country grieves the devastation Hurricane [HURRICANE NAME] brought upon two of the most northern islands, Grand Bahama and The Abacos, there is a silver lining. The majority of The Bahamas, including 14 of the most commonly visited islands, remains unaffected by the storm. The warm and friendly people of The Bahamas, along with hotel and travel partners, from Bimini to Nassau and Paradise Island and The Exumas to Inagua, are ready to welcome travellers with open arms.

As the public seeks information on how they can best help the country recover, the Bahamas Ministry of Tourism, Investments & Aviation urges consumers to know that the best thing they can do for the country, now more than ever, is simple: visit The Bahamas.

Airports, cruise ports, hotels and attractions throughout the Northern, Central and Southern Bahamas are open and operating. These islands include:

- Nassau and Paradise Island
- The Exumas
- Eleuthera and Harbour Island
- Bimini
- Andros
- The Berry Islands
- Cat Island
- Long Island
- San Salvador
- Rum Cay
- Acklins and Crooked Island
- Mayaguana
- Inagua

“Maintaining a robust tourism industry will be vital in helping the country to recover and rebuild,” said the Hon. Minister of The Bahamas Minister of Tourism, Investments & Aviation. “We are grateful for the outpouring of support and love for our islands, and we would like everyone to know that the best thing they can do for us right now is visit Nassau, Paradise Island and the Out Islands. Our beautiful island nation is ready to welcome you.”

14 ISLANDS OF THE BAHAMAS ARE READY TO WELCOME VISITORS WITH OPEN ARMS (CONT'D)

Travellers should visit www.bahamas.com to learn about the unique characteristics of each Bahamian island and find the one, or two or three, that best suits them.

Bahamas.com is a portal to vacation discovery with a wealth of resources for planning a trip. Travellers can start with the Island Finder – an interactive tool that measures personal preferences to match consumers with the island for them – then explore a pre-approved list of Places to Stay and an always-updated database of Deals & Packages to book. For island cuisine, upscale resorts and endless family activities, Nassau and Paradise Island are where turquoise waters and culture collide. For a quaint boutique getaway where the sand is as pink as the colonial cottages, visit Eleuthera and Harbour Island. The options are infinite.

In addition to planning a trip to The Bahamas, monetary donations to a reputable relief organization are most critical at this time. Those who wish to contribute can find a list of The Bahamas' verified partners at www.bahamas.com/relief.

- The Ministry of Tourism has an extensive hurricane preparedness plan with ample resources in place.
- When hurricanes do occur, on occasion, the country is prepared to bounce back.
- The safety of our visitors is paramount, and we also take measures to communicate which islands remain open for business.
- In this case, we wish to stress that Nassau and Paradise Island remain open for business. We remind visitors to check regularly with their airlines and hotels for updates.

SAMPLE:

HURRICANE DISASTER RELIEF OPERATIONS

The Ministry of Finance advises the public that where disaster relief operations are carried out by charitable and non-profit organizations, provisions exist under the Value Added Tax (VAT) Act for exemptions and refund of Value Added Tax (VAT) expenses. Charities must register online and obtain a TIN or tax identification number from the Value Added Tax (VAT) Department. They must ensure that the TIN is quoted on all of their local expense receipts.

Most relief organizations have already received a TIN. Others are encouraged to register. In most cases, the process of getting a TIN takes less than 24 hours.

All donations of relief supplies shipped from outside The Bahamas are eligible for exemptions of both the Value Added Tax (VAT) and Bahamas Customs duties, once advance notice and documentation are given to the Ministry of Finance, or Disaster Risk Management Authority sanctions the request.

Where charities incur direct expenses on their relief operations, whether for supplies or charter operations, they can apply to the Value Added Tax (VAT) Department for refunds. Refunds, however, cannot be provided to private individuals for goods donated to charities, whether purchased or used. However, where monies are donated, the relief organizations qualify for the Value Added Tax (VAT) refund, when they use these funds.

To avoid being victims of fraudulent schemes, it is strongly recommended that persons making donations to relief organizations request proof that the organization has a tax identification number and are registered with Disaster Risk Management Authority.

The Ministry of Tourism, Investments & Aviation has issued a notice to industry partners advising them to allow Disaster Risk Management Authority, the appropriate Government agency, to conduct the initial damage and needs assessment in all the affected areas so that offers of assistance are appropriate. Bahamas Ministry of Tourism, Investments & Aviation stressed that it is not recommended for private entities to travel to the affected areas at this time.

HURRICANE DISASTER RELIEF OPERATIONS (CONT'D)

Once the reconnaissance has been done, a State of Emergency will be declared, and that will, then, determine the next step in a well-established protocol on how to donate items and assess various concessions. Upon completion of the needs assessment, Disaster Risk Management Authority will advise aid distribution protocols, as well as manpower needs.

Six Royal Bahamas Defence Force officers have been deployed to Acklins. Five Royal Bahamas Defence Force officers are enroute to Crooked Island. A Royal Bahamas Defence Force team left for South Long Island this morning, while another team is on standby for deployment to North Long Island. A team of Royal Bahamas Defence Force officers was sent to San Salvador and Rum Cay.

The Bahamas Red Cross Association is accepting supplies and donations at their Headquarters on Mackey Street. Contact The Bahamas Red Cross.
